Building Your Research Data Management Toolkit: Integrating RDM into Your Liaison Work
An ACRL RoadShow

“I’m more confident now in my ability to approach faculty and other stakeholders about data management in a way that is thoughtful and thorough.” ~ Workshop Participant

Program

Research data management has emerged as a need among academic researchers and liaisons are building skills in response. This one-day workshop assists liaisons to identify their existing skills and mindsets that transfer to research data management services and then create a learning plan for the RDM specific knowledge needed to serve their subject disciplines. Tools, hints, and tricks will be shared that facilitate partnerships on campus with disciplinary faculty and with other RDM service providers.

Presenters: 2
Experience Level: Introductory

Who Should Attend?

✓ Subject liaison librarians seeking to engage with research data management for the first time, or with very basic knowledge of research data management
✓ Senior library administrators, middle management, and department heads
✓ Technical services librarians and staff
✓ Other campus partners involved in research, sponsored programs, technology transfer, IRB, or campus IT

- OVER -
Sample Schedule

30 minutes  Introduction
45 minutes  An Overview of Research Data Management
15 minutes  Break
75 minutes  Applying Liaison Skills to RDM
75 minutes  Learning to Serve Your Discipline’s Data Needs
1 hour      Lunch
90 minutes  Planning for Data Management
15 minutes  Break
75 minutes  Developing Campus Partners and Collaborations
30 minutes  Tying It All Together

With an ACRL RoadShow you get...

- High-quality curriculum delivered by expert presenters
- A full day of learning, engagement, and interactivity with colleagues in your field
- Tools, materials, and resources you can adapt to your own work
- Up to 100 participants
- Workshop evaluation summary report

Ready to bring a RoadShow to your campus?

You can bring this workshop to your campus, chapter, or consortium year-round! Visit www.ala.org/acrl/roadshows for full curriculum details, a list of presenters, and a sample schedule for the day. To discuss dates, locations, and pricing, contact ACRL Program Officer Chase Ollis at collis@ala.org.